Kira Mileham
Director of Strategic Partnerships
IUCN Species Survival Commission

Based in Washington D.C., USA.
Kira is a science communicator focused on species conservation through collaborative partnerships.

As the IUCN Species Survival Commission’s Director of Strategic Partnerships, she is responsible for strategically connecting the SSC to external partners to foster stronger collaboration for improved species conservation. Kira works closely with NGOs, zoos and aquariums, botanic garden community, corporate partners and Government agencies.

Also, she sits as a formal advisor on the Council of the World Association of Zoos and Aquariums as well as the Conservation Committees of most of the world’s regional Zoo and Aquarium Associations.

Kira holds degrees in Conservation Ecology, Public Relations and a PhD in human behavior change and impact evaluation all from the University of Newcastle, Australia.